

AFFILITATION OF PETROLEUM ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT TO APG (Association of Petroleum Geologists)

Petroleum Engineering Department of RGCE is very active in its activities in professional bodies. We have biggest student chapter of SPE (Society of Petroleum Engineers). To further expand students involvement in professional activities, Department got affiliation from another petroleum industry body, APG.

In a formal function, during inaugural of NCUHR 2015, on 5th March, the affiliation certificate was handed over to Prof. Jitendra Prasad, Dean and HOD of the Department and student representatives Mr. Aswin Binth and Mr. Sudharsan by Mr. Raja, GGM and Vice President APG and Mr. Mahadevan, Secretary, APG

This will give students greater opportunity to participate in APG activities, attend field trips and invite experts to RGCE
